

Expected learning outcomes

Deliverable D5.1.4.

Expected learning outcomes

Despina Papageridou, Maria Pavlis-Korres, Iphigenia Vamvakidou

ABSTRACT

The identification and detailed description of the expected learning outcomes in educational supporting activities for people who belong into vulnerable social group NEETS is related to the learning objectives set as a result of their needs assessment and the educational material developed to address these needs (see deliverables 5.1.1., 5.1.2., and 5.1.3). The exploitation of the proposed educational material in combination with the principles of adult education can produce learning outcomes pertaining to more than one of the four basic categories of learning objectives set (obtaining knowledge, enhancing social skills, acquiring digital literacy and improvement of organizational-practical skills). The expected learning outcomes are laid down in respect to the proposed activities of the four modules of the training material. During the implementation of the training program, the educators, being aware of the different characteristics of each NEET group members, may adapt the proposed educational material and methods to the learners' needs, in order to achieve the best possible learning outcome.